Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Europe for $ 2 A Day: A Few Notes for the Assistance of Tourists of Moderate Means, With Some Personal Reminiscences of Travel I began by reading Robinson Crusoe, and ended with the wanderings of Ulysses. Between these two extremes were twelve years, and several scores of books had been devoured. It seemed that almost everything worth mentioning in the history of the world had taken place in Europe and around the Mediterranean Sea, and that about all the art and architecture under the sun were displayed in those favored lands. I therefore resolved to forego the Plato and the Calculus of the Senior year, and to study the mother-lands of modern civilization. I could make a right royal and freehanded tour of three months duration; or a more moderately conducted sojourn of a year; or an economical journey of still longer duration.
