

Hand Luggage

By Page, P. K.

Erin, Ontario, Canada: Porcupine's Quill, 2006. Soft cover. Book Condition: New. 1st Edition. Original printed wraps. 96 pp. Octavo. `Riffing on memory: that is PK Page's method in Hand Luggage, a wonderful long poem nobody else could have written, meaning the original form as well as the autobiographical content. Some events are told out of chronological sequence; some minor characters -- a marmoset is one -- admittedly claim disproportionate space. The reader is relieved of much that a conventional autobiography would plod through. Hand Luggage carries a plentitude of penetrating observations and probing questions arising from richly varied cultural experience frankly and lovingly examined. It is a progression of incandescent moments caught in a poetic voice both assured and unassuming. `Thank God for my eye, my insatiable eye,' says PK Page, `it has seen me through much.' That sharp eye, always searching after vision, sees a reader through this book too, this surprising verse memoir of a `borderland being' deeply pondering her life in society and in art.' -- Stan Dragland Printed offset by Tim Inkster on the Heidelberg KORD at the printing office of the Porcupine's Quill in the Village of Erin, Wellington County, Ontario, Canada.
